Cut 1 (4 Sep 70, 1830-1831)

K. says to his wife that he ^{is} leaves. ^{is} ((K. leaves))

Cut 2 (5 Sep 70, 1140-1309)

((Silence, steps and hammering are heard)) K. says that the blouse of his wife does not go very well with her skirt. Mrs K. is very glad that K. noticed it: "I am very happy that you are interested in my appearance but you should love me in any blouse I put on." ((Mrs K. laughs))

Mrs K. and her husband eat. ((Music is heard from another apartment)). K. was in Cuernavaca ((A town not far from Mexico City)) with another Sov, whose name is not mentioned and Vasily ((Prob. ZIMIN)) picked them up in his car. ((Pause))

Mrs K. says that Valentina ((KASATKINA)) lost 14 kg. she did not eat breakfasts at all. ((Silence))

Mrs K. says that it is warm today, K. thinks that it is warm for her because she had a drink. Mrs K. did not have any drink yet! ((Silence))

K. reads a newspaper. ((Pause)) Mrs K. asks who will be elected in Chile. K. says: - "Alende", who belongs to the left party, but he should be approved by Congress. ((Silence, both read)) Mrs. K. says that she likes to buy figures of Mexican men and women as souvenirs. Mrs K. complains that she can not take off paint from her nails.

Mrs K. says that BAKULIN is an impudent fellow (nakhal). BAKULIN and his wife are completely different persons, they have different characters, ^{are} different in everything. ~~Another~~ Another woman in her place would have at least 10 lovers! Vera ((BAKULINA)) also could have a lover. She should watch him, ^(her husband) She should check on him at least once! She should go to the different hotels and look for him ((BAKULIN)). Once IVANOV told Larisa ((Prob. Lora GOLUZOVA)) that one evening BAKULINA came home late and BAKULIN did not want to open the door for her. BAKULIN asked her wife to write a report where she was so late in the evening. Poor BAKULINA was begging him for a long time before he unlocked the door. ((Both laugh)). Valentin ((BAKULIN)) is a big idler. ((Silence))

K. asks his wife to get up from the bed. Mrs K. asks her husband to wash

((Silence)) K. calls his wife from another room and offers her nuts. Mrs K. enters and says that she ((Mrs K.)) is not too fat. K. agrees with her. K. says that they have enough bread. ((Silence, steps are heard. K. and his wife are getting ready to go somewhere)) K. says that he will go ahead of his wife, he must start the car. ((K. leaves and one minute after him [leaves Mrs K.]))

Date of Intercept: 31 July -

Reel No: 81(97)

August 2 1970

31 July 1970

Loud street noises. No conversation at beginning of reel.
Mr. and Mrs. KALININ exchange a few comments.

2 August 1970

A. KALININ

B. KALININA

No - IT'S BAKULIN

C. Valya (Valentin - lnu, possibly SOKOLOV)

D. Valya's wife

((Footsteps, fragments of conversation at first.))

B. and D. discuss the cost of mattresses in various stores and where it is best to buy a mattress. B. says, "My friend Klava ((lnu)) bought one ((a mattress)) in New York, but since they were at the UN, all their furniture was bought at their own expense; the transfer/moving of their furniture ((probably back home)) was free. That mattress is just lying unused at the dacha. She doesn't need it. They don't live at the dacha. They're in Yugoslavia now. Her mother and father don't live at the dacha and it will probably be rented out. If I give Klava $50 for it, she'll be glad to give it to me." A. comments, however, that it makes no sense buying the mattress from Klava because it is old already, the springs have rusted, etc. Furthermore, sending the mattress ((new)) back home won't be expensive - "the distance is small, and then by ship to Leningrad." He feels it's better to buy it here and send it. D. suggests "writing to the diplomatic mail," but C. says, "We don't have direct mail; we have to write through MID."

SECRET

C. and D. ask that A. and B. ((presumably)) write a letter to some acquaintances ((unidentified, probably in the Soviet Union)) and find out "whether we can depend on them and if we are going to stop for a day, how much this will cost approximately, and where best is it to stay." D. adds, "I don't think it's necessary to mention the mattress. When we arrive there, we'll make arrangements about it. If it's no, then no. I'll manage very well. I have two very good beds." ((Apparently C. and D. are departing soon.)) D. continues that her friend Shura (Aleksandra - lnu) wrote her that she is frequently ill and it's difficult for her with only one mattress. However, D. has room to sleep three, a divan and two beds. If someone visits, "Valya ((her husband)) and I sleep in one bed, but if I'm sick, I sleep on the divan, while Vovka ((her son, probably)) and Valya sleep on the beds. It's possible to maneuver somehow. If we had one bed and someone came to visit, it would be very difficult."

C. suddenly asks if they know a "hooligan" song, and at the request of the women he sings it. All laugh, after which D. tells a dirty joke. Again all laugh. After this they criticize modern youth. C. comments, "Education has a great influence on people." D. says, "You know, when I worked in (? our ?) department/administration there was a very pleasant engineer there. He was 45 years old. His daughter finished the Medical Institute. She went to work and then all the patients began to complain to the chief physician about her rudeness. She started to be terribly rude at home. Then it began, - she started cursing and hitting. They examined her and she had something wrong with (1-2G) and they put her in the insane asylum. Then periodically she was calm, was at home, and then suddenly she again became violently coarse. She was 24 years old but their other daughter was 6 years old, can you imagine? They were afraid she would beat the little girl to death. If she was home alone, she would almost beat her to death. Can you imagine what a tragedy this is? They gave her all kinds of medicines. We had a private/exclusive polyclinic; there were many high officials (svetil) there. Nothing helped her. They said ((it was caused by)), 'Over strain.' A thinks that "people have become weaker" now. But B. says,

B. Vovochka, I think it's simply because there's more information now.

SECRET

- A. You yourself remember how much information we received at (1G) and none of us went insane during the entire five years. At the University you've got to consider it this way, if five persons ((?go nuts?)) during a session, that's a small number.
- B. ((insists)) There are very many ((going insane)). I have a friend ((female)) who is a psychiatrist. She told me that there are many (?who are ill -- mentally?), very many. Sometimes she doesn't know (?how to handle all her work?).
- A. ((jokingly)) Perhaps information is affecting me now and (2G) in a hospital? I haven't gone insane up to now, but perhaps it doesn't depend upon the amount of information, but on the type of information. ((All laugh.))
- D. Ha. Volodya ((A.)), it was simpler previously. If you keep looking at such things ((possibly referring to TV)), you'll have nightmares.
- B. I only watch 'Lassie.' You know, it's a dog. I like it. I always try to watch it and I'm always affected by it.
- A. You know, I think we're especially affected by it because we know the particulars. That dog isn't specially trained; it belongs to a family. And the mother of the boy is a housewife. They just announced that during ((school)) examinations, the boy will not be photographed. There's going to be a hiatus in the ((TV)) programs.
- B. Vovochka, are you going by car? You're not leaving soon, are you? Don't forget (? the box ?). I've already packed the box.
- D. Do you have boxes?
- B. I do. Valerka ((Inu)) left them for us. Our carpenter made them.
- A. I've been looked at those boxes. I think that ^{if} I stay here for four years, we won't be able to pack our baggage according to the box sizes, but will have to do the opposite ((get boxes to fit the baggage dimensions.))
- B. You know, we don't have so much junk. We bought things, thinking... ((loud noise covers remainder of sentence)).
- A. I'm telling you, it makes sense to overpay for packing because then everything will be in order.
- B. We have (2-3G) - $750.
- A. But our ambassador (3-4G), more expensive; that's understandable.

But I'm paying 560 ((possibly dollars)) — only half.

B. (2-3G), $3,000. The only thing is that we have to pay for an apartment there yet.

A. We had a car, absolutely at our own expense.

D. Tell me, why (2G)?

B. They pay themselves now ((unspecified for what)). A woman went by plane; she paid.

A. A year hasn't passed yet. They pay from September, or something like that. I think they started later, almost since January.

B. There you are; (1G) arrived; (? he left ?) his car there for some reason.

D. We don't have a car. Do you have a car?

B. No.

D. But he ((unidentified)) has one.

B. There are two cars here for (2-3G). Oleg's ((1nu)) car (1-2G). But I don't understand why it's that way. Volodya spoiled him scandalously. He's young and he drives a car, but you're older and must...

A. His wife can't walk.

B. Too bad, let her move her ass.

D. (3-4G), there was one car, one for two people. (3-4G) That (1G) is horrible/terrible. Valerka's ((1nu)) ^{wife} was in the hospital, ^{children} Valerka's/were with me. I was working. Vovka ((1nu)) was taking care of them. Two little girls lived with me. So he ((unidentified)) called him ((Valerka)) and said, "Valera, put the car in for washing and I'll pick it up. I have to have it clean." He ((Valerka)) came to Valya ((D.'s husband)) and said, "He didn't even ask how my wife is." Valera had spent the night next to his wife Lyubka who had just been operated on. They cut out her glands under a general anesthetic; she was nauseous, but he said, "put the car in for washing; I need it," or, "wash the car" In such a tone of voice.

A. Such impudence!

D. Yes. In general, his manner shows ((what he is)). He wasn't even interested in asking how his ((Valera's)) wife is, where the children are. That's unimportant to him. But wash his car for him, he needs it clean. I'll tell you, with such an impudent person you can only be impudent because they ((such people)) don't understand.

A. You see, in principle, he was a favorite/pet (lyubimchik); apparently he'll be that way now.

D. But why do you think that he'll be that way now?

A. Because he is also a khokhol ((derogatory term for Ukrainian)), (1-2G). ((Pause))

D. Oleg three weeks ago or more (2G); he also knows how to be sick.

B. Oleg knows how and she knows how.

((They are possibly talking about Oleg NECHIPORENKO or Oleg SHEVCHENKO, since both are Ukrainians, or as A. calls Oleg, "khokhol."))

D. She was so (3-4G), turned about, and said nasty things about me. But outwardly she will chat and give a good impression. I recall when she came to the Embassy (3-4G).

B. What is she, (2G)?

D. No, she was there (1-2G). In general, they scolded ((or, cursed)) and insulted her, and they scolded ((or, cursed)) Oleg... but Oleg is tactless in general.

A. But he knows how to pretend to be tactful and courteous.

B. He once said some sort of thing — you and I were sitting on the couch. I felt so (?awkward/uncomfortable?) "I'm probably 10 years older ((than you)). What right do you have to say such things." ((B. said to the man, probably the same Oleg.)) He said, "I was joking." I don't recall the joke, but it was so stupid, with some sort of vileness, that the joke was absolutely impossible.

D. (?I liked?) it very much yesterday when Pavel ((Inu)) was joking.

A. Pavel also knows how to joke.
((or, we))

D. They went swimming. Tamara said, "I don't feel well," and because of that she couldn't go swimming, that's without a doubt. He started pestering, "Girls, go swimming." We were bothered. Volodya didn't say a word, (?but he?) said, "Let's go swimming or else we won't feed you at lunch time. And Pavel kept insisting. But Tamara said, "Why are you pestering us. Maybe we can't go swimming." And Pavel said, "Oh! You're not at that age!" Can you imagine? She stared at him and didn't say a word.

- C. And how did you understand it when he tore her bathing suit?
He came up and said, "VANOVSIIY, take away your wife's bathing suit because all her measurements can be seen." When she started telling him off!!!
- D. She really told him off. She's vicious; she gets wound up momentarily. Listen, I'll tell you this fact: women remain women. (?Once?) she got a pitcher and little napkins... Klava pulls out the pitcher with the napkins and says in front of everyone: "What do you do with this?" She answered, "I wash myself!" Kostya said, "You fool! Put it where it belongs!" Listen, strangers ((not identified)) were sitting there, can you imagine? And yesterday, well, all right, I'm older. Katya is older, but Tamara is younger than I.
- B. Tamara is probably 44. But, in general, that's not a subject for conversation with men.
- D. Any way, it's not that time yet when women have change of life. I don't even know how old Katya is. He was (? 50 years old ?). ((They are possibly talking about Pavel KOVALEV, the chauffeur, and his wife Yekaterina.)) No, you listen. He has the nerve to ask, "Who wants to see him ((lnu))?" ((Her comment to his question)) "What are you? Are you the Secretary or the First Department, or something? What business is it of yours who is going to ask for whom at the Embassy?"
- A. Whom?
- D. Well, when we arrived, he said, "Who wants to see him?" I said, "An acquaintance."
- A. Guess who! ((they laugh))
- D. No, I can't take him in such large doses! We had supper together the day before yesterday when we brought the boss/bosses. And Katya spilled wine on (?KUZ'MIN?). How he snapped at her!
- C. What happened there?
- D. How he did snap at her. Tamara said, "Such things aren't noticed usually." First he stared at her. That's his way, to stare first.
- A. He first has to let it sink in. Then he needs contact.
- D. I look^{ed} Katya was putting a whiskey glass on the table. (?The whiskey glass was empty?), and then he really let loose.
- B. Oh! So you were there?

- D. Well, that was the day before yesterday.
- B. Well, you should have said something about it. That's the version /episode we were talking about.
- A. I'm sorry for Katya. Those things frequently affect her quicker. She's simply affected more quickly by them.
- B. Ida ((DEMINA)) was saying, "I came upset at something at Sasha ((DEMIN)), it was something he did, or had not answered properly, and Katya said, "You see how spoiled you are, while all of my life I only see such things." When Ida started working, he chewed out Katya together with (1G), saying, "Go work. How is it that Ida went to work and you're sitting at home? The wife of an official went to work, but you sit at home?" He kept picking on her until the wife of (?KRASNOVSKIY?) — there was such a man here — until (?KRASNOVSKIY's?) wife came and told Ira about this and said, "Ira, speak with Semonovich ((1nu)) so that he will call Pavel in and speak with him." And Katya said, "Where am I going to work? I'm no good any more as a doctor's assistant (fel'dsher), and to go as a cleaning woman it's difficult/hard for me now."
- D. Listen, of course. Tamara tells me that she is at the age when it's time for her to stop working as a cleaning woman. She has to guard her health. Her heart constantly (?hurts?) her.
- B. No, really? Konstantin Nikandrovich ?(BOGATYREV)) asked, so she even began working in a second place.
- D. Yes? And how about that one ((woman)) who knows everything? Is she working already?
- A. I don't know. Those problems don't bother me at all.
- B. (3-4G).
- A. What's it to her. She can type on all typewriters, and with touch typing. She can also work as a bookkeeper. She can do anything you want.
- B. Listen, and how is (?SHCHUCHKIN's?) wife?
- C. (?SHCHUCHKIN?) arrived and the first thing he did was to run to me to work. He didn't discuss anything with (?Vladya?), but ran to me asked where he could get a job for his wife. And that's with two children. They had five children.
- B. Maybe they feel the wife should work so there wouldn't be more children?

C. Further, he ran to the office, saying, "My wife knows English, Spanish; she knows the typewriter." He ran around everywhere. And finally he got her in. And he's always around the Ambassador, and everything, and he finally got her a job. The children hang around in the Embassy and she works. Do you understand? (And that's?) the First Secretary! ((Pause)) Vovochka, shall we go ((probably by car))? I'm dragging you away from your wife. ((B. and D. chat about cooking various dishes for a while.))

ACTIONS REQUIRED - REFERENCES

Reference: HMMW-17866, 5 May 1970

1. We appreciate the information forwarded in Reference.
2. Concerning Subject's stay in Mexico, our sources have reported the following. Subject arrived in Mexico on 7 March 1970 aboard Sabena 555 from Brussels. During his one month stay in Mexico City, he stayed at the Hotel Agnes located at Calle Saltillo #67, Mexico City. Subject departed Mexico on 8 April 1970 aboard Air France flight 700 for New York. LICALLA and LILYRIC first reported seeing Subject at the Soviet Embassy on Monday, 9 March. He was thereafter seen entering the Embassy almost every morning between 0900 - 0945 hours. During Subject's entire stay in Mexico, he was seen most often in the company of Subject of 201-261813. Per AEMIDRIFF information, coupled with information available in Station files, it is believed that Subject of 201-261813 possibly functions as one of the Deputy Residents of the AEGRI Residentura in Mexico City. It is probable that Subject of 201-261813 was the Mexico City AEGRI case officer in this particular case. Subject's other contacts were Subjects of 201-850177 and 201-844388, both identified by AEMIDRIFF as AEGRI officers, and possibly could have been involved in the case as support officers. Subject was also in contact with Subject of 201-814235, who is an AEGRI officer.
3. Subject was not seen at the Soviet Embassy on 14 March, which was the originally scheduled meeting date with the LNEASE agent. On Sunday, 15 March, LILYRIC reported that Subject entered the Soviet Embassy at 1143 hours and was seen leaving, alone, at 1432 hours. There was no LIEMTY source coverage on 28 March 1970, which was supposed to be the alternate meeting date with the agent.
4. Forwarded herewith are negatives of photographs of Subject taken by LIEMTY sources.

URGENT RE: TOP

Station Contacts with Soviet Officials in Mexico

ACTION REQUIRED - REFERENCES

- References: A. HMMA-38435, 4 February 1970
B. DIRECTOR 021485, 31 March 1970

1. Forwarded under separate cover are copies of several memoranda prepared by Station officers who have more than superficial contact with Soviets in Mexico City. By virtue of joining various organizations such as ANCOSAD (association of diplomats below the rank of Ambassador) and the Consular Corps Association (or by being invited to functions sponsored by the latter group), half a dozen Station officers have had a wide range of contacts with MHHARSHers. In many instances, such contacts have been one-time affairs, but in some cases there was some promise of a continuing relationship which could be of value in the Station's operational program. Most of these contacts are in the early stages, and most will remain at a fairly quiet level. In some cases, however, contacts are with MHHARSHers who are on our priority target list, or who might soon find themselves on our priority list, such as AEJALISCO, AEPOLYP, and 201-305870. Case officers in touch with these targets are encouraged to keep the relationship alive as part of the overall strategy planned against each target. And, in the case of those who are not targets, an existing relationship with one of them might be parlayed into a relationship with one of the targets.

2. This conscious effort to make contact with MHHARSHers was quite successful in its initial stages. It seems to have run in to a snag, however, in the wake of the AEMIDRIFF defection, and possibly also due to the operation against AESEASICK. In most cases, our MHARSH friends have suddenly become inaccessible. There were three functions of the Consular Corps, including the annual election of officers, within about two weeks of AEMIDRIFF's defection and subsequent press conference (which took some cracks at the members of the MHARSH consular section, indicating that they spent 90 percent of their time doing intelligence work and very little time issuing visas). The MHARSH representation in the Consular Corps Association had always been a strong one, and one of their people was normally an officer (formerly AEDIHARD, more recently 201-305870). However, none of them attended any of these functions, including the elections. 201-305870, a consular officer, had an invitation to the home of Dexter E. ROSTEDT on 13 March. Not only did he not show up, ROSTEDT was never able to get him on the phone to confirm the invitation. A January volleyball match between the MHARSH Embassy and LNPURE was supposed to have been followed by return engagements. 201-305870 was in charge of this, and he has suddenly lost interest in the follow-up. On the other hand, the MHARSHers who belong to AMCOSAD have behaved more normally. AEJALISCO, the MHARSH representative on the AMCOSAD board of directors, took part in an excursion to Baja California 28 February (no LNPURE officers went) and was present with a half-dozen of his colleagues at the AMCOSAD annual election lunch on 19 March. (At the 19 March affair, AEJALISCO was uncharacteristically nervous, but would not say what was bothering him. It will be noted that the AESEASICK operation reached its denouement the night before.)

3. In support of the evidence above that the MHARSHers have gone into their shell; at least to some extent, as a result of AEMIDRIFF's defection, LIBACON-1 has reported that a TDY technician with whom he had been working as a translator, told him that it was now much more difficult to get away to go out on the town with LIBACON-1. When asked why, he said it was due to AEMIDRIFF, "who really s--- on us, even we [TDYers] are being watched." In general, the line given out by MHARSHers asked about AEMIDRIFF's defection sticks to the story that she was just a dumb secretary who fell in love with a Mexican. She not only knows nothing, she will probably be very sorry she ever had anything to do with that Latin Lover.

4. It is probable that the MHARSHers will slowly come out of their shells and will begin to circulate once more. If so, the Station's policy of supplementing the SB operational program with personal contacts will continue, and, as stated, will concentrate on obtaining this type of contact with the selected targets. In this way, our assessment and knowledge of the target can be supplemented by a case officer's expert assessment. Headquarters will be kept advised of developments.

5. This dispatch was in preparation when Reference B arrived. The assessments of AEJALISCO and 201-305870, requested in Reference B, are included in the attachment. PCQs have been filled out in certain instances, and a batch on AEJALISCO will be forwarded shortly. The Spanish-language PCQ's promised in Reference B will be most welcome.

SUBJECT: Vincent P. RIZZUTO's Soviet Contacts

Largely through the medium of AMCOSAD, RIZZUTO has met a number of Soviets. With many it is little more than a nodding acquaintance, but with some it is a little deeper than that. The latter are discussed below. It should be pointed out that each of these Soviets is very likely aware of RIZZUTO's RVROCK affiliation.

A. Valentin V. BAKULIN (201-261813) - RIZZUTO has known him for over two years. BAKULIN is a smooth-talking, smooth-appearing diplomat. He speaks excellent Spanish, but has never been known to talk about anything more controversial than the weather, the landscape, or his family. His wife is a pleasant woman, but she rarely accompanies him on excursions. He has a teen-aged son of whom he is very proud. The son visited him in the summer of 1969, and the son exhibited a pretty good working knowledge of English, which he had been studying in school in Moscow. BAKULIN appears to be a bit of a hypochondriac. He complains often of stomach ailments, and for this reason rarely takes a drink (at least in public). In spite of his good Spanish and his very presentable appearance, he does not seem to mix much with non-Soviets. In common with most of his colleagues (notably excepting Boris A. CHMYKHOV and Boris A. KAZANTSEV), BAKULIN seems to prefer the company of his own people, and does not go out of his way to talk to others. When he is approached, he is very affable. He never talks about his job (he is one of the First Secretaries but does not appear to have any overt job), but did say once that he and CHMYKHOV could not go on home leave at the same time because one had to cover for the other. AMCOSAD functions appear to provide the only occasion for BAKULIN to appear in public. When RIZZUTO has been to functions at the Soviet Embassy, BAKULIN has always been the proper host -- polite and hospitable. The real BAKULIN never shows through. Since he is a neighbor (same floor of same apartment building) as well as frequent companion of CHMYKHOV, he is undoubtedly aware of the relationship between RIZZUTO and CHMYKHOV, and he stays out of it, probably on purpose.

B. Yuriy CHERNYSH (201-825743) - RIZZUTO has met CHERNYSH only three times, the first two meetings being well over a year apart. However, all meetings resulted in relatively lengthy conversations. CHERNYSH made no bones about getting RIZZUTO's name correctly (most Soviets do not seem to bother and usually act as if they do not remember the name). He will talk, intelligently, about almost any topic, controversial or not. He is very intense, as if he is working hard to remember everything that was said, and every quirk

MEMORANDUM FOR THE FILE

SUBJECT: Valentin Vasilyevich BAKULIN (P-6059)

On 26 June 1969, LILYRIC reported seeing BAKULIN enter the Soviet Embassy in the company of a young man whom LILYRIC identified as BAKULIN's son. The BAKULINS have one son, Vladimir born 30 January 1954 who is presently studying in the USSR. Vladimir was in Mexico City visiting his parents in the summer of 1968 for summer vacations. There is no indication that BAKULIN's son is again in Mexico visiting. Nonetheless, LILYRIC reported this young man as BAKULIN's son.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

3 May 1969

SUBJECT: AMCOSAD trip to Chihuahua and Durango, 25-27 April 69

1. My wife and I and Mrs. EM STUART were the only Americans among the 60 AMCOSAD members who flew to Chihuahua on 25 April and thence as in the attached itinerary. Participation was heavily Western European, with relatively few Latin Americans and surprisingly only three Soviets (all with wives): CHIRYKHOV, PROVOROV, and BAKULIN. Other Bloc types were LUKASZ (Poland) and DOSAI (Hungary), both with wives. No Cubans. The trip was very interesting, and a resounding success.

2. As usual, my conversations with the Soviets didn't amount to much. None of the wives had anything to say, and they stuck to each other like glue. PROVOROV (P-2183) speaks only when spoken to and even then he says nothing. I don't know why they send him on these things. BAKULIN (P-6059) is a real smooth article. He mixes well, speaks excellent Spanish, but never discusses anything controversial--the weather, the scenery, etc.. Mr CHU of China told me that Mrs. BAKULIN is a very intelligent and well-read woman. My buddy CHIRYKHOV (P-6235) was of course all over the lot. He is popular and charming but nobody has the faintest idea what he is talking about because he speaks such awful Spanish. He wasn't up to his usual tricks of pouring drinks for everybody. The three Sovs actually were quiet and well-behaved this time, probably because they were greatly outnumbered and all had their wives along. Except when CHIRYKHOV was going around making points, they stuck pretty much together.

3. I had a few brief conversations with CHIRYKHOV on Friday, but Mr. CHU was his target for that evening. The CHIRYKHOVs and CHUs shared a table for dinner, and Mr CHU reported the conversation to me in great detail the following morning on the train. The main topic of the conversation was the Chinese-Soviet border dispute, and Chu took great delight in telling CHENYKHOV that the Soviets would have been better off if they had ~~permitted~~ CHANG to stay in ~~power~~ ^{China}. CHENYKHOV's point seemed to be that the dispute would eventually be settled. "He is a great one for pouring oil on troubled waters, no matter where they are. Mr. CHU said that CHENYKHOV now only seeks him out on occasions like this, where ~~some~~ some sort of diplomatic function throws them together. He never makes a lunch date. CHU believes that this is in line with Soviet policy, which is to talk to Taiwan ~~xxxx~~ government representatives without being ~~xxxx~~ conspicuous about it. (CHENYKHOV sat next to Bill MILLS at the Foreign Minister's lunch for the ALCOSAD Junta Directiva on 23 April and spent most of the time talking about the same topic-- or at least MILLS thinks that was what he was talking about.)

4. I didn't see much of CHENYKHOV on the train ride on Saturday (he was in the other car, and I didn't care to risk life and limb to pass from one car to the other). At one sight-seeing stop I took a picture for him (with his camera) of him pretending to push his wife into the Barranca de Cobre. I kept telling them to back up, but they didn't go far enough. Dinner was rather late that night (2330 hours to be exact) ^{and I saw CHENYKHOV} didn't show up. CHENYKHOV claimed that she was tired and not hungry, but I wonder if he just told her to stay in her room. I was his target for the evening. He sat next to me (we were at long tables) and as he was at the end I was his only conversation partner. All I got out of it was a strained left ear.

The conversation rarely got into serious topics (once he said we were making good propaganda in Czechoslovakia, to which I replied that propaganda was hardly necessary since the facts speak for themselves. He simply shrugged at this and changed the subject.) He also, apropos of nothing that I can remember, started talking of X SORGE and spies. I went along with the gag and told him he'd better leave his camera behind when ~~he~~ we went to Topolobampo or he'd be accused of spying on the port facilities. This was good for a few chuckles. He has brought up this topic before, and I can only assume it's his way of telling me that he and I each ^{know} ~~know~~ we're in the same business. He also told me that he'd been in New York once several years ago on a courier trip to the Soviet UN mission. I didn't really understand the point of his story. He also claims to be studying English several hours a week with Mrs. KUPLIAKOV. I didn't test his English, which can only be worse than his Spanish, if that's possible. He will be going on home leave this summer and will return for at least another year. CHLYKHOV had no real explanation for the fact that so many Soviet regulars (freeloaders) were missing from this trip. He said that KAZANTSEV was in Guadalajara on business, and that the others, like KUPLIAKOV, just couldn't get away (LITVOY indicates that KOLONIAKOV and PROKHODKO canceled out at the last minute, reason not stated).

5. DOSAI (P-12487), a very pleasant person, as is his wife, is about to leave PCS. His wife is leaving in a month, and he will follow a month after that. They both claim to be looking forward to the return, although a more completely Westernized pair of Hungarians I have never seen. I can only assume they expect another tour abroad eventually.

6. LEKASZ (P-12468) demonstrated why Polack jokes are so widely told and believed. The ~~jet~~ plane was hot when we got on it, and he promptly took off coat, tie, and shirt, and sat there in his undershirt. I'm sure if he'd had a beer can he would have ~~crushed it~~ crushed it with one hand and thrown it out the window while flying at 18,000 feet.

7. MARRE, the German, showed why Germans are still beloved throughout the world. Somehow they were not called by the hotel on Sunday morning. They woke up on their own in plenty of time, but in typical Kraut fashion sat in their room waiting for the call. By the time they figured the call might not come, the bus was ready to leave, so they got no breakfast. They got on the bus, went to Topolobampo and rubber-necked with the rest of us, and then announced that they were going to stay there to have breakfast. Someone offered to drive them to a rendezvous point to meet the bus, but even with that we had to wait a good half hour. They got on the bus pleasantly burping and picking their teeth and sat down without a word of apology. The only thing missing from this picture was a purse made out of human skin for Mrs. MARSE.

8. I shared a taxi from the airport Sunday evening with the two French couples who were along, who were anxious to get back and check the election results. They were pulling for DeGaulle. I wonder how much longer they'll be here.

CONTACT REPORT

SUBJECT : BESABER (P-8777)
DATE OF MEETING : 27 February 1969

1. In response to a phone call from Subject, I met him from 1515 to 1545 at his hotel.

2. Subject told me that he's on the verge of bankruptcy and that this time He's not kidding. He has been unable to pay his employees their full wages and, recently, the newspapers have begun attacking him as a foreigner, exploiter of workers, etc. He seemed exceptionally cheery in spite of the gloomy prospects and I indicated that I feel sure He'll figure a way out of his problems. His one possibility is to get the money he needs from "Baby" but the price is too high: him. "Baby" would like Subject to divorce his wife which he refuses to do.

3. The main thing on Subject's mind was that he had a visit from Valentin BAKULIN (P- 6059) on Saturday, 22 February, at the factory. BAKULIN brought Subject a bottle of vodka and he bought about $600 (pesos) worth of Subject's products to send back to the USSR. He apparently sent some previously and he said they went over so well that he wanted more. BAKULIN came with his wife and with another Soviet couple but Subject didn't know their names. BAKULIN said he's going to send Subject some little wooden dolls. BAKULIN brought regards from CHMYKOV and from LOGINOV, BAKULIN didn't have a card to leave with Subject so he wrote his name and address on a scrap of paper for Subject which Subject would like to have returned. Xeroxed for BAKULIN's and Subject's file.

4. Subject gave me a letter he had just received from Wlodzimierz STRYZEWZKI, the mysterious Polish photographer who had turned up unexpectedly at Subject's house (see Contact report of 22 Oct 1968). Enclosed were a couple of photos he'd taken of Subject and his family. Subject couldn't understand why the quality is so bad considering that STR was passing himself off as a professional photog and was loaded with equipment. Also interesting is the fact that the letter arrived very soon after the visit of Ambassador MAJCHURZAK (P-377) during which Subject had groused about never having received a letter or the photos the STR had promised. Subject is sure that MAJ must have sent a telegram to Poland telling STR to get on the stick.

What for?

Timothy M. ARCHBOLD

P.S. I told Subject to direct his attention toward BEPAN (P-6601) as soon as possible. I suggested that he might arrange to be introduced through MAJ on the pretext Subject had mentioned once before, i.e., Subject's interest in seeing some of Subject's grandfather's music presented in Mexico. He thought this sounded pretty reasonable in view of the rapport he now has with MAJ while having no other natural entree to BEPAN.

Short sketches and personal impressions of the Soviet Embassy personnel in Mexico City.

BAKULIN - P-6059

Valentin Vasilyevich BAKULIN, 2nd Secretary, has a pleasant and cultured voice. He seems to be quite happy with his wife, Vera Ivanovna, who has many women friends with whom she does a lot of window shopping. BAKULIN is not known for any outstanding vices and is well liked by others. His Spanish is quite good.

8. LANGUAGES:

- a. Spanish: Subject reportedly spoke good Spanish in December 1959, shortly after his arrival in Mexico (2).
- b. English: Subject spoke fair English in August 1960 (3).

9. PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION AND PHOTOS:

Photographs of Subject taken during his tour in Mexico are attached.

10. PERSONALITY, CHARACTER, HABITS:

In May 1963, Subject was reported to be drinking to excess and worried about his position and future (12). Also in 1963 he was reported to be very unprofessional in his handling of one agent, drinking too much and discouraged about his job (2). This information, obtained through two double agent cases, was not otherwise confirmed.

1. CURRICULUM VITAE:

"In 1950 a Valentin FAKULIN was mentioned as having spent several months in the Philippines reviewing the political situation and made a report on it to a conference in Prague which was concerned with working out a plan of action for the Far East." (6).

5 Nov 1959

Subject, accompanied by his wife and son, arrived in Mexico (1). Subject was assigned as Employee of the Soviet Embassy (10), replacing Viktor Lukich KHUKHOREV (201-192029).

19 Jun 1962

Subject, his wife and son left Mexico on home leave (3).

18 Sep 1962

Subject, his wife and son returned to Mexico (11).

12 Jan 1964

Subject, his wife and son left Mexico PCS (16). Subject was replaced by the same KHUKHOREV above (201-192029), who by then had been promoted to the rank of Third Secretary (3).

12. INTELLIGENCE AFFILIATION: Known GRU

Subject was the case officer for two double agents, one of whom has been handled by other GRU officers. On 24 February 1961 a caller was told that Subject could be reached on telephone number 055, which was the number of the Military Attache Office (2). On 28 June 1961, when Subject and known GRU officer Vladimir Nikolayevich SMYSHLYAYEV (201-288295) were in Tampico, Subject called the Soviet Embassy and asked to speak to "one of our people, Pavel or someone else." Known GRU officer Pavel Fedorovich KOVALEV (201-029068) took the phone and talked to SMYSHLYAYEV, who said to tell their wives and Aleksandr Georgiyevich SIDOROV (201-018498, known GRU and presumed resident) that they would be back in Mexico City the following day. (3).

13. INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES:

a. On 30 December 1959 Subject took over a double agent from known GRU officer Pavel Fedorovich KOVALEV (201-029068). When Subject went on home leave in summer 1962, the agent was met on 7 July 1962 and subsequently by known GRU officer

Vadim Aleksandrovich SHENOK (201-278697). On 30 October 1962 SHENOK told the agent that he was now the regular case officer, although Subject had by then returned to Mexico. SHENOK left Mexico PCS, however, in July 1963, and on 3 September 1963 Subject again took the agent over. When Subject left Mexico in January 1966 he gave the agent emergency contact arrangements with one "Nikolas," who from the description should have been Subject's replacement, Viktor Lukich KHUKHOREV (201-192029). Since the agent then left Mexico, no contact with KHUKHOREV was made. In May 1964 the agent was picked up by known GRU officer Yuriy Nikolayevich ISAYEV (201-741377).

b. In May 1963 it was learned that Subject was handling another double agent, on whom Subject levied requirements for US Army manuals and information on US air bases. Subject's last meeting with this agent was in October 1963. The agent is not believed to have been turned over to anyone else. (12, 13, 15).

c. A third double agent, who claimed that he had been recruited by GRU officer Pavel Fedorovich KOVALEV (201-029068) in spring 1961, went to a meeting in a Mexico City restaurant on 26 August 1961; however, he was not contacted until the alternate meeting the following day, when he was met by GRU officer Vasilii Sergeyevich PROLOV (201-285608). On 26 August 1961 Subject and GRU officer Vladimir Nikolayevich SMYSHLYAYEV (201-288295) were observed covering the restaurant where the agent was, although the agent was not met that day. (22).

d. Cf. below for Subject's visit to Morelia, 17-18 April 1961.

14. NON-INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES:

From at least May 1960 until the end of his tour in Mexico, Subject was reported handling the loan of documentary films from the Soviet Embassy, and as such he was nominally a member of the Cultural Section of the Embassy (3, 4). Subject took this job over from his predecessor, Viktor Lukich KHUKHOREV (4), and KHUKHOREV took the same job on again when he replaced Subject in 1964 (3). Subject's office hours in this job varied slightly but were normally from 1000 to 1200 hours on Mondays and Fridays (3). Subject was also occasionally reported accompanying visiting Soviet delegations apparently as part of his Cultural Section duties (3). While Subject was on home leave in summer 1962, the loan of films was handled by Assistant Cultural Attache Nikolay Sergeyevich LEONOV (201-132139, known KGB) (3).

In June 1960 Subject was reported to be living in Amatlan 123, Apt. 2 (5). On 22 August 1960 he moved to an unknown address (3). In June 1962 he was reported living at Cuautla 161, Apt. 7, where he is believed to have remained through the rest of his tour in Mexico (3).

Subject is reported to have taken the following trips in Mexico :

ca. 23-28 Nov 1960

Subject travelled with a visiting Soviet parliamentary delegation (3).

2-5 Dec 1960

Subject was in Acapulco, probably attending the Film Festival (3).

ca. 14-21 Apr 1961

Subject, Yevgeniy Semenovitch BOCHKOV (201-072041, suspect GRU) and Yuriy Konstantinovich ALEKSHANDROV (201-262821, suspect KGB) visited Morelia and Guadalaajara (3). On 17-18 April these three Soviets were reportedly in Morelia, where they reportedly gave money to Communist students with orders to burn down the US/Mexican Cultural Institute; this was done on 18 April after the Soviets had left town. (7, 9).

June 1961

On 22 June 1961, Subject and two other Soviets were reportedly in Nuevo Laredo, probably to pick up a car (3), but they also reportedly distributed propaganda (9). On 28 June 1961 Subject and V. N. SHYSHLYAYEV were in Tampico, apparently an extension of the same trip, and planned to return to Mexico City on 29 June 1961 (3).

3 Dec 1962

Subject was reported in Acapulco, apparently at the Film Festival (3).

During his tour in Mexico, Subject was reported constantly coming and going at the Soviet Embassy, even during the time when he ostensibly had office hours. In 1958-60 Subject drove a car with diplomatic tags # 97; then from November 1960 until his home leave in June 1962 tags # 91 (changed to D-363 in January 1962) (this car was often used also by V. S. FROLOV); after his home leave he first used D-363, which was then taken over by Aleksandr Mikhaylovich DENISOV (201-726491, known GRU), and Subject switched to D-381, which was taken over by his successor, V. L. KHEUKHOREV (21).

15. CONTACTS

a. Soviet Contacts:

On 2 June 1961 Subject was reported planning to take Georgiy Andreyevich to see the pyramids; they used the familiar form of address (3). This was presumably Georgiy Andreyevich MITEREV, representative of the Soviet Red Cross who was then visiting Mexico.

There is little information on Subject's close friends among the Soviets stationed in Mexico. On 24 October 1961 Subject asked Ivan Gavrilovich ALPERYEV (201-236701, known KGB) to go to the movies with him, but ALPERYEV could not go (3). On 1 December 1963 Subject, Vasilii Mikhaylovich ~~DEONOV~~ (201-067914, known GRU), Vadim Aleksandrovich ~~SHENOK~~ (201-278697, known GRU) and possibly Aleksandr Mikhaylovich DENISOV (201-726491, known GRU) planned to take their children on an outing to the spa of Cuautla (3). On 26 February 1964 the wife of Aleksandr Georgiyevich SIDOROV (201-018494, known GRU, probably resident) said that she had received a letter from Subject's wife (3).

b. Non-Soviet Contacts:

1). "Ojovidrio" (i.e. Glasseye).

On 25 May 1962 Ojovidrio called Subject, but Subject said that he would not be able to see him until after Subject got back from home leave (3).

2). Donato LNU.

3). Jose Luis LNU.

On 27 May 1960 Jose Luis informed Subject that his children Salvador and Eduardo were sick with hepatitis. Subject said that in that case they had better postpone "this matter" for a couple of weeks. (4).

4). Stanislaw ADAMOWICZ (P-2304, 201-198884), former/Polish commercial employee in Mexico.

On 20 July 1960 ADAMOWICZ asked Subject if he could borrow some films for their holiday on 22 July (3).

5). Javier ALVAREZ, probably identical with the Javier ALVAREZ Vega who in 1963 was reported to be cleaning something at the Soviet Embassy.

On 28 March 1962 Subject called ALVAREZ at 12-53-26 to ask about his typewriter (3).

6). Dr. Ricardo ALVAREZ del Castillo (P-5318), reported born 21 April 1917 in Mexico, D.F., apparently originally in contact with the Soviets as a medical consultant and later on a social basis. No recent contact with Soviets known.

On 2 April 1960 ALVAREZ reminded Subject that they had met in the resort of Cuernavaca and invited Subject and his wife to dinner (4). On 3 November 1960 ALVAREZ complained that he had not gotten his invitation to the 7 November reception at the Soviet Embassy and said that Subject was a very good friend of his (3). On 22 May 1961 Subject and ALVAREZ made a chess date, and ALVAREZ invited Subject's family to come over also (3). On 22 May 1963 Mrs. ALVAREZ said that her husband was travelling around Latin America and complained that she had not seen Subject for a long time. Mrs. ALVAREZ wanted Subject to help a friend of her, Mrs. BENSUNZA, who wanted to travel to the USSR, and Subject said he would take care of her when she came to the Embassy (3). On 7 November 1963 ALVAREZ again complained that he had not received his invitation to the Soviet Embassy reception, and Subject said that he had it for him (3).

7). (Engineer) fnu ANGE, not further identified.

On 14 September 1960 ANGE, located at telephone 22-05-93, the Civil Aeronautics Office, told Subject that he had been unable to go the day before. Subject said he would meet ANGE and his father that day "there." Subject and ANGE used the familiar form of address. (3).

8). F. Enrique ANGELI L. of Campeche, probably identical with Fernando Enrique ANGELI, professor in Campeche who in October 1963 was listed as an active member of the Movimiento de Liberacion Nacional, a pro-Cuba Communist front organization.

-6-

On 15 August 1963 ANGELI contacted the Soviet Embassy in Mexico City, saying that he was a friend of Subject's but that the last time he had been in Mexico City he had been told that Subject had returned to the USSR. ANGELI asked for Subject's current address and also for information on travel to the USSR, as he was planning a trip (14).

- ✓ 9). fnu ARREDONDO, of the National University.

On 5 August 1963 ARREDONDO made arrangements to see Subject at the Soviet Embassy in order to borrow some films (3).

- 10). (Engineer) fnu AYALA, Jr., located at telephone number 24-39-30, listed to Talleres Electronicos Sea (television), not further identified.

On 26 April 1963 Subject asked AYALA to return the films he had borrowed (3).

- 11). Enrique BORDES Mangol (P-4717), Mexican pro-Communist employed as photographer with Prensa Latina, the Cuban news agency in Mexico. BORDES has taken photographs at Soviet Embassy receptions.

On 27 February 1962 Subject thanked BORDES for the photographs and asked what he owed him, but BORDES said only a bottle of vodka (3).

- ✓ 12). (Architect) fnu BRENA, not further identified.

On 31 May 1961 BRENA asked Subject if he could see him the following day, but Subject said he would be out of town. BRENA said he would call the following week and perhaps they could get together with their wives. Subject and BRENA used the familiar form of address (3). On 22 November 1962 BRENA tried to reach Subject, but he was out. (3).

- ✓ 13). Enrique CALDERON, not further identified.

On 12 June 1961 Subject left a message with CALDERON's sister at telephone 16-93-36 for Subject to return the films (3). (This phone was listed to Cesar GAHADO Garcia, Revillagigedo 52-6). On 18 September 1961 Subject called CALDERON at 16-25-79 again asking him to return some films (3). (This phone number was listed to Super Autos Sesma Armando, used cars.)

- 14). Ariel CAMPOS, of the Cine Club Coloso. In 1964 Ariel CAMPOS received a letter from an American machinery firm addressed to him at the firm Maquinaria Colcos. The general manager of this firm in 1961 was Francisco AMADO Granados (201-108887), Guatemalan Communist living in Mexico who was involved in arms smuggling for guerrillas. The firm was owned by AMADO's wife. AMADO was reported to have been in evidently clandestine contact in 1957 with Boris Pavlovich KOLONIYAKOV (201-107688, known KGB). AMADO is now dead.

On 26 May 1961 CAMPOS mentioned to Subject that he had seen him the previous Saturday and given him a letter. CAMPOS asked if there was any news about getting (something, possibly films) and arranged to go to see Subject that day before noon (3).

- ✓ 15). Arturo CASTILLO and wife Ana CASTILLO (P-6004), both reportedly leftists and frequent Soviet cultural contacts.

On 8 July 1963 Mr. CASTILLO contacted Subject in order to borrow some films for his wife, the director of the Coyoacan Ballet Academy. On 23 July 1963 Mrs. CASTILLO herself asked Subject about films (3).

16). Maria de la Paz CERVANTES (P-8848), employee of Sabena Airlines, in contact with the Soviet Embassy in regard to travel arrangements.

On 25 April 1963 CERVANTES asked Subject about borrowing films (3).

20). Alejandro CRISTAIN Flores Sanchez, no traces. Nephew of Horacio FLORES Sanchez (P-133), Mexican leftist professor who has been friendly with several Soviets.

On 29 July 1963 Horacio asked Subject why his nephew had had trouble in borrowing films from Subject for Preparatory School # 3, and Subject said that he had to have a signature of someone who would be responsible for the return of the films. On 19 August 1963 Alejandro asked Subject about borrowing films (3).

✓ (21). Inu FORTIÑO, no traces.

On 24 May 1963 FORTIÑO tried to locate Subject on behalf of the Chilean Ambassador in regard to copies of speeches (not further explained) (3).

22). Eduardo GARCIA Marquez, of the National University, no traces.

On 10 February 1961 Aleksandr Nikhaylovich BROVKIN (201-185114), cultural officer of the Soviet Embassy, contacted GARCIA, who knew Subject, and said that he wanted to discuss an exchange of films (3).

23). Mariane GARCIA Perez (P-8007, 201-334094), former Cuban Consul in Mexico.

On 15 March 1963 GARCIA asked Subject about a film. GARCIA said a friend of his would pick it up, because GARCIA was leaving that day for Cuba. On 12 June 1963 Subject said he would have the film ready for Subject's next trip (to Cuba). (3).

25). Carlos GOMEZ Romero, employee of the Institute for Mexican-Russian Cultural Exchange in Mexico City (IICMR).

In 1962 and 1963 GOMEZ Romero was occasionally reported contacting Subject in regard to films, presumably for showing at the IICMR (3).

28). fnu GUTIERREZ Galindo, of Revista Cuauhtemoc, not further identified.

On 5 September 1960 GUTIERREZ Galindo reminded Subject that they had met at a Soviet Embassy film showing. GUTIERREZ Galindo wanted to borrow a film to show at his home and invited Subject to come (3).
